Professional career

Andrea Flores is a paralegal in the transportation law group.

She started as a student at the Director of Civil Status, in the death sector, while completing her D.E.C. in legal techniques. This experience marked her first steps into civil law. After completing her internship at the Courthouse in December 2018, she held the position of legal technician at the civil registry, small claims division, for 3 years. She then worked in the field of family law for approximately 3 years.

Throughout her career, Andrea had the opportunity to collaborate with judges from the Court of Quebec, clerks, private practice lawyers, various government agencies, and citizens. These diverse professional experiences allowed her to enhance her skills in legal writing, research, and analysis in civil and family law.

Passionate about law and learning, she joined the transportation law team at Stein in December 2023.
