

Emilie Dallaire

Notary

Professional career

Originally from La Malbaie, Émilie Dallaire left her hometown to pursue her university studies in Quebec City, where she began a bachelor's degree in law in the fall of 2019. During her studies, she had the opportunity to work as a legal technician in a notary's office, where she gained valuable practical experience and confirmed her interest in the notarial profession.

After completing her bachelor's degree in law, she continued her academic path with a master's degree in notarial law at Laval University. She subsequently completed her professional internship in Chicoutimi, within a law and notarial firm, in the fall of 2023. This experience enabled her to deepen her knowledge, expand her skills, and strengthen her interest in corporate and transactional law.

Upon returning to Quebec City in January 2024, Ms. Dallaire continued her practice at a traditional notarial firm until November 2025. She then joined the large and welcoming family at Stein Monast, where she now pursues her career with dedication and enthusiasm.
